Be assured your information will remain private and your personal information will not be shared with anyone. Bridesmaid's gowns are made to order. Once placed an order cannot be cancelled or altered for any reason. The gowns are made based on the size you have chosen. It is almost always necessary to have alterations done to the gown once it comes in. This is an additional expense. We will be glad to advise you on the size that would be best suited to you; however, the final dress size chosen is ultimately your responsibility. Please be advised that designers accept no returns or exchanges on bridesmaids dresses.

I am fully aware that I have read, understand and agree to abide to the above information and upon the submission of this form I am obliged to pay for the item(s) specified above.
